Join music educators from across the country, engage with fellow colleagues, and inspire one another to guide your music students to excellence when you attend the 2020 NAfME National Conference.

NEW! This year, the biennial NAfME Music Research and Teacher Education National Conference will take place concurrently with our PreK–12 conference. This unique congruence of practitioners and researchers, along with the excitement of the 2020 All-National Honor Ensembles, will bring unmatched opportunities for interaction, interconnection, and interdisciplinary learning among all the conference attendees.

- Amplify: Change – What is needed to advocate, collect data, and influence decision-makers? How do technological, societal, educational, and professional expectations for teachers in the classroom influence the profession and student learning?

- Amplify: Music for Life – What role can schools and music educators play in creating a music-centered community that fosters lifelong music-makers?

- Amplify: All Music, All Students – How does music education reach all students, those currently in music classrooms and those who are not?

- Amplify: Creating and Responding – What can music educators do in their classrooms to engage reflection, creativity, and critical thinking, that ensures lifelong music-making?

- Amplify: Student-Centered Learning – How do we co-create music education experiences with students while maintaining rigor and relevance?

- Amplify: Urban and Rural Music Education – How do music educators in urban and rural settings support, educate, and meet the needs of all students given the varying environments?

- Amplify Inspiration Showcase – In addition to the Amplify themes, there will be a showcase of high-quality classroom practices in an informal, “poster session” format.
